Culturally Competent Care

Prepared by Deborah A. Boyle, RN, MSN, AOCN®, FAAN

Editor’s note: This new feature, suggested by Deborah A. Boyle, RN, MSN, AOCN®, FAAN, will appear occasionally in the Oncology Nursing Forum (ONF) to provide readers with an updated bibliography on topics of interest. In future issues, ONF will solicit bibliographies on selected topics but welcome your suggestions for topics or submissions of actual lists of current materials on specific topics. Some topics, such as this one on culturally competent care, will be updated yearly. For more information or to obtain FYI guidelines, please contact Editor Rose Mary Carroll-Johnson at rose_mary@earthlink.net.

Disparities in Care

End-of-Life Care

Screening

Symptom Management

Research Considerations

Hispanics/Latinos

Li, R., Gilliland, F.D., Baumgartner, K., & Samet, J. (2002). Hormone replacement therapy and...

Asian Americans

Han, H.R., Kim, M.T., & Weinert, C. (2002). The grieving process of Asian Americans.

African Americans

For a comprehensive listing of multicultural literature, please refer to the bibliography provided in the article “A Multicultural Education Strategy to Enhance Hospital-Based Cultural Competency in Professional Staff.” Oncology Nursing Forum, 29, 764–768, 2002.